

OPEN FOR ALL ONLINE

Open for All Online is an asynchronous, self-paced course. We invite you to learn about interacting with people who have intellectual and developmental disabilities through interactive engagement, participation, and real-life immersion.

- Module 1: Welcoming Culture
- Module 2: Creative Communication
- Module 3: Individual Appreciation
- Module 4: Purposeful Positivity
- Module 5: Life Long Learning

Target audience: Individuals interested in learning practical skills to apply in their professional or personal life.

Pre-requisite: basic knowledge about human development and disabilities.

Time commitment: It is estimated the course takes 25-30 hours to complete, not including the immersion experience, which is a critical component of the course. You will choose the amount of time to spend in the immersion experience.

Credit/Certification: This course is all about YOUR learning, so you are in charge. Regardless of how much time you spend in the course, we will provide you with a “certificate of completion” at the end.

For more information about course content, contact: Debra M. Sellers, Ph.D., (515) 294-2312.

Registration: <https://go.iastate.edu/BRZ5CN>

